VECOS[®]

and Launch of Smart Locker Innovation Showroom in Midtown Manhattan

New York, NY – September 4, 2025 – Modern Office Systems (MOS) and Vecos, the global leader in smart locker technology, today announced a strategic Allied Partnership designed to expand Vecos' presence in North America and elevate the enterprise smart locker experience. This partnership is anchored by the opening of a new Vecos Innovation Showroom, located inside MOS's Midtown Manhattan headquarters.

The partnership marks a major milestone in the evolution of smart workplace storage, combining Modern Office Systems' 40+ years of storage expertise and fulfillment excellence with Vecos' globally proven software-driven locker platform.

“At Modern, we’ve always taken pride in providing the best workplace storage solutions to our clients,” said Richard Greenfield, President of Modern Office Systems. “This partnership with Vecos allows us to bring the most advanced smart locker technology in the world to New York and deliver it with the same service and expertise that’s defined us for over four decades.”

Alongside the partnership, MOS's sister company, Modern Smart Lockers (MSL), will continue operating as a distinct brand with a dedicated focus on smart workplace technology. With a legacy of successful smart locker deployments for some of the most recognized global brands, MSL will expand its footprint into key U.S. markets, including Boston, Philadelphia, and beyond.

As part of this transition, key MSL leadership, Eric Schmidt, Katie Lowell, and Christian Schmidt, have joined Vecos North America to lead regional growth, strategic partnerships, and workplace technology initiatives. Their experience in product strategy, client development, and smart locker innovation will help accelerate Vecos' expansion in the U.S.

The new NYC showroom will serve as a hands-on hub for designers, architects, developers, and workplace strategists. It features live demonstrations of Vecos' enterprise locker software and hardware alongside integrations with leading workplace platforms such as SmartSpace, Modo Labs, Sharry, Kode Labs, Comfy, and Appspace. The space also showcases high-end finishes, acoustic solutions, and curated material palettes, with custom door fronts from Soelberg and others.

“This is the next evolution of workplace storage,” said Jim Maywalt, Director of Business Development at MOS/MSL. “We’re blending flexibility, data, and design into one connected solution, and we’re proud to make it available right here in New York.”

Grand Opening and CEU Event – October 2025

The showroom will officially launch in October, immediately following WORKTECH New York. AIA-accredited CEU sessions, guided tours, and workplace integration demos will be offered during the opening week and throughout Q4. Architects, designers, furniture dealers, and enterprise real estate leaders are encouraged to schedule a visit or request a private showing.

About Modern Office Systems and Modern Smart Lockers

Modern Office Systems (MOS) has been a trusted name in workplace storage for over 40 years, known for delivering complex, high-profile projects with an unmatched focus on client service, technical execution, and fulfillment. An early pioneer in both locker and smart locker solutions, MOS played a critical role in shaping the modern smart storage category. Gerry Pisano, Vice President of Sales and one of the company's owners, was instrumental in introducing smart locker solutions at scale, having personally led several landmark project wins and deployments in the category's early days.

Its sister brand, Modern Smart Lockers (MSL), has been at the forefront of bringing MOS's proven business model and smart locker expertise to new markets across the U.S.. Having worked with a variety of locker technologies over the past decade, the MSL team brings deep, hands-on experience and is now proud to be working closely with Vecos, the worldwide leader in workplace smart lockers. The combination of Vecos' technology and MOS/MSL's service and fulfillment model creates a powerful foundation for growth.

This partnership between the best in global locker technology and the best in North American project execution marks a bold and aggressive strategy to increase smart locker market penetration and scale across the U.S. and Canada – beginning with the launch of the NYC showroom and rapid expansion into Boston, Philadelphia, and other commercial hubs.
